

African Studies Association of Australasia and the Pacific

MONASH University

African Studies Association of Australasia and the Pacific 31st Conference

“Building a Common Future – Africa and Australasia”

CALL FOR PAPERS

Monash University Clayton Campus, Melbourne Australia
Monash South Africa, Johannesburg, South Africa
26-28 November 2008

Since 1978, the annual African Studies Association of Australasia and the Pacific (AFSAAP) conference has been bringing together Africa-focused scholars, students, government and diplomatic staff, business, industry and individuals to discuss Africa and the issues, challenges and opportunities which the continent faces. The aim of AFSAAP conference is to identify and discuss ways in which Africa and Australasia can work together towards shared solutions and a shared future.

The African Studies Association of Australasia and the Pacific and Monash University are now inviting papers for the forthcoming 31st African Studies Conference – “Building a Common Future – Africa and Australasia”.

The 31st AFSAAP conference will be held from 26 to 28 November 2008, concurrently at both the Monash University Clayton Campus in Melbourne and the Monash South Africa Campus in Ruimsig, near Johannesburg. The conference web site is located at <http://www.afsaap.org.au/>

Given the cross-institutional and in this case, cross-continental nature of the AFSAAP Conference, we will welcome papers on any topic relating to Africa, but suggest the following as focus areas:

- HIV/AIDS crisis in Africa
- Peace and conflict studies in Africa
- The African diaspora
- Africans in Australia
- Africa in comparative context
- African literature and cultures
- Business and Economics in Africa
- Africa and China
- Africa, climate change and sustainable development
- Education and development
